SEC Form TCR Whistleblower Narrative California Resources Corporation (NYSE CRC)
Primary Allegation Failure to Disclose Material Environmental and Infrastructure Liabilities regarding Unmitigated High Pressure Natural Gas Pipeline Hazards in a High Fire Threat Wildland Urban Interface (WUI) Zone

1 Executive Summary of Material Risk

California Resources Corporation (NYSE CRC) is failing to mitigate and formally disclose a severe, documented infrastructure and public safety hazard involving its active subterranean high pressure natural gas pipeline in Yorba Linda, California The pipeline is currently compromised by invasive root systems and a continuous, unmitigated forested fuel load (pine and pepper trees) situated on a private slope lacking a utility pipeline easement CRC's ongoing failure to demand municipal or private abatement of this hazard despite formal engineering notice exposes the corporation and its shareholders to catastrophic material liabilities analogous to the 2010 San Bruno pipeline explosion and the 2008 Freeway Complex Fire

2 Engineering & WUI Fire Hazard Assessment

As established by a stamped Professional Engineering hazard report, the specific pipeline segment on the Chicago Avenue slope is subject to multiple critical failure conditions

• Subterranean Root Encroachment Invasive root systems from an unbroken canopy of pine and pepper trees are directly enveloping the high pressure gas infrastructure, compromising pipe integrity and increasing the risk of a pressurized rupture

• WUI Fire & Slope Convection Hazard The dense forested fuel load sits directly above the pipeline In a wildfire event, slope convection will rapidly ignite this unbroken canopy, generating severe radiant heat and an extreme wind driven ember cast

• Pre 1980 Structural Threat The resulting ember cast directly threatens a choke point of pre 1980, non fire resistant legacy homes adjacent to the infrastructure, compounding the potential casualty and property damage liabilities

• Impediment to Emergency Response The current fuel load and infrastructure layout violate OCFA Guideline B 09 staging requirements for 68,000 75,000 lb fire apparatus, ensuring that emergency mitigation of a pipeline fire will be physically obstructed

3 Regulatory Defaults and Exhaustion of Remedies

CRC's liability is compounded by the established administrative default of local agencies, leaving the corporation fully exposed to negligence claims were served formal Notice of Strict Liability. Both agencies administratively defaulted on October 14, 2026, failing to enforce the mandated 100-foot defensible space or abate the B-09 staging violations. On November 4, 2026, the Contract City Attorney for Yorba Linda issued a formal threat of litigation against the property owner to actively prevent the removal of the hazard, finalizing the exhaustion of local administrative remedies (See Exhibit D).

Municipal Default & Active Obstruction The City of Yorba Linda and the Orange County Fire Authority (OCFA)

• Corporate Notice & Inaction: CRC Corporate Legal and CPUC SED were formally served a technical hazard notice on October 29, 2026. On November 4, 2026, CRC Corporate Legal was explicitly CC'd on a formal dispatch proving the City's active obstruction of pipeline safety (See Exhibit E). Despite possessing actual knowledge of this municipal obstruction, CRC has failed to issue a facility protection demand to the municipality or coordinate with the fee title property owner to secure the pipeline.

• Violation of CPUC GO 112-F: CRC is operating in violation of California Public Utilities Commission General Order 112-F by failing to maintain safe clearances and protect its transmission infrastructure from known encroaching hazards.

4. Materiality and Investor Impact

The SEC requires publicly traded companies to disclose known trends, events, or uncertainties that are reasonably likely to have a material effect on financial condition or operating performance.

• Undisclosed Catastrophic Liability: A failure of this pipeline — catalyzed by either root-induced rupture or WUI fire ignition — would result in massive, unquantified litigation, regulatory fines, and environmental remediation costs.

• Corporate Negligence: CRC has actual knowledge of this specific, localized threat via the October 29, 2026 formal notice but has taken zero action to mitigate the hazard or disclose the localized infrastructure vulnerability to its shareholders.

The whistleblower, acting as the underlying fee property owner and a licensed Professional Engineer, submits this technical record to the Commission to force corporate compliance and protect public infrastructure before a catastrophic failure occurs.
